Saturday Market

MARKETPLACE • COMMUNITY • CELEBRATION

From Beth

I want to make sure you know that you are not in competition with one another. When you make one-of-a-kind products there is a one of a kind customer that will really see what you have done. It is all about the individual—you as an individual and the other individual who is the appreciator. That is why we stand together so strongly. If there are times when your work might seem of the same type as another member, it is certainly not the same. Just look at it. There are obvious design elements that are yours alone.

Your challenge is to make sure your work calls out to your customer. Outside. In a Park. Where anything can happen.

You can do it. I've seen you do it. And you can do it again.

And at the same time have a lovely Saturday.

~Beth

Eugene Celebration Preview

This year's Eugene Celebration will take place one week earlier than last year, Sept. 4-6. This is also Labor Day weekend. As always, this will have a variety of impacts on our Market, AND there are major changes from our usual Celebration schedule. Here are the details:

ONLY ONE Day of Market: the Market will be open Saturday, Sept. 5, 10 am - 5 pm, and the Food Court and stage will be open until 6:30 p.m.

Check in Early Saturday: Due to the Parade, check in and booth assignment will happen one hour early on Saturday, check in by 7:30!!

Community Causeway: This year, the Community Causeway will fill South and West Park Streets, ONLY around the West Park Block, This will cause significant challenges to load in and load out on the West side, so plan to be patient and flexible.

Be in the Parade: Kim always loves to have some company in the Parade, we are part of the award winning Unique Eugene contingent. If you're interested, talk to Kim at the Stage.

Committee Corner

The Standards heard from members about the production of fused glass, including the use of commercial decals. They will continue this discussion at the next meeting. They will also be discussing "The Maker is the Seller" in regards to use of employees.

The next committee meeting is the Sustainability Committee on Aug. 25 at 1 pm. The committee will be working on the introduction of durable forks in the Park Blocks food court.

New Food Booth Today!

We are excited to welcome Joanna Milligan and her Food Booth "The T.R.E.E." to our Food Court Family. She starts today. The T.R.E.E. stands for "the true reason everybody eats" and once you taste her food you'll understand what that means. Her menu features fried wontons filled with either veggie filling, crab or salmon. She also offers a delicious tempeh dish and salads, all available with a variety of amazing sauces. She's also planning on offering seasonal wontons. They are located along 8th St., where the sushi booth was, next to the tree. Stop by and welcome her and her crew to the family!

Holiday Market Update

Vi is at folks with 22 Holiday Market points in the HM booth allocation process. If we don't have your application, you should get it to us A.S.A.P. to keep your place in line.

Remember that HM applications and payments go together. We cannot accept your application without payment. Likewise, we cannot accept HM payments until we have your application.

Please give a call if you have any further questions, 686-8885.

Tip of the Week: Accomodate Your Customers

Customers love to be comfortable while shopping. If you use a display that is at normal table height, consider raising the height of your display table so that customers do not have to bend down to see your work, especially if your work is small or detailed. Many of us who love to shop are experiencing diminishing eyesight and lower back mobility, and if someone near you has a display of similar items that's easier to look at, we're likely to pass you by.

A simple way to raise your table height is to use lengths of PVC or metal pipe that is slightly larger in diameter than your table legs. Of course if you raise your display, you'll probably need to get a taller chair and longer table cloths, perhaps your increase in sales will help with the cost!
