MARKETPLACE • COMMUNITY • CELEBRATION

From Beth

First, thanks for being here today. When the weather report looks challenging for days in advance, it makes you dig deep and decide how important the Market is to you. Always know how important you are to the Eugene Saturday Market. We are all woven together with artistry and self expression in the out of doors—Rain or shine.

I went to the board meeting this week. What is clear is that smart and savvy leaders are guiding the market through this summer of opportunity and possibility. Their vision is clear as they unite their vision for the Market with their overview of operations, budget, standards and city issues. Your directors address difficult items with respect, honesty and kindness. They have your profitability and your connection as a community at top of mind. It is awesome to witness. You are welcome and always invited to engage in the process of committees and decision making but it is also fine to send them your trust as they navigate the winds of change and focus on bringing your best work each Saturday.

Call me if you need me and Have a lovely Saturday.
~Beth

Call the office to get Beth’s phone number or email. She is happy to talk to you about policy, standards issues, neighborhood issues or anything you need. Since this is a temporary part time assignment, give her a day or two to get back in touch.

Board Election TODAY!

The semi-annual Board of Directors election takes place today. There are six Market members running for five Board positions. You have received a ballot this morning at check in. Please fill it out, place it in the envelope provided, write your name legibly on the envelope, and turn it in at the Info Booth before 5:30 PM. We need your name on the envelope so we can know that only members are voting. Ballots are removed from envelopes before tallying.

Please vote! Candidate statements are available at the Info Booth. Results will be tallied and reported on Tuesday.

Father’s Day Reminders

You can get a “Father’s Day is Next Week” reminder sign at the Info Booth!

Manager Search Update

The closing date for applications for the General Manager and Promotional Advertising Manager was yesterday. We do have applicants.

The two Search Committees are meeting and will be reviewing applications this week, then scheduling interviews for the semi-finalists.

Many thanks to the folks who are taking part in this important phase of the process! Stay tuned to find out how to submit a question for the finalist interviews. The plan is for those to take place in the last week of June.

Do Not Park Curbside If You Are Not Actively Unloading or Loading Your Vehicle, Part 2

As we mentioned last week, there is a 20 minute parking limit, during which time you should be actively moving things from or to your vehicle.

By this, we mean pack up your stock and booth furniture as much as possible BEFORE you get your car, and AFTER you have friendly neighborhood end-of-the-day chats.

By this, we mean don’t have someone hold “your” space for you with an idle vehicle until whenever you are ready to go.

By this, we mean give your fellow vendor friends a break and let them park close to their spaces while you are busy packing up and they are ready to roll.

Again, thanks for being your most generous, gracious and patient community minded self.
