From Kimberly

Rain or shine…
Thank you to those of you who have braved the weather to make a market, and not just any market, but a market that has continued, uninterrupted, each Saturday, for almost 50 years.
We know you are powerful Mother Nature, and we respect you. We are powerful in our own way :-) Have a safe day,
Kimberly

About Today’s Weather, Booth Weights & Possibly Closing Early

Safety is our priority today and every Market day. It is very important for the safety of you, your customers and your product that you sufficiently weight your booth, 25 lbs. per booth leg is our minimum requirement. We do have plenty of blue weight bags for $10/piece at the Info Booth, but do not have any sand to fill them with though… If you put up sidewalls, make sure air can still move through the sides of your booth so that the walls don’t create a sail-effect.

Currently, it looks like the worst of the winds will be hitting north of us, but we will be closely monitoring the weather all day, and Kimberly will be on-site until the end of the selling day. If weather warrants closing market early, we will, and staff will spread the word in person on the blocks if that needs to happen.

HM Orientations & Final Product Screenings

If you’ve never sold at Holiday Market, you need to attend a special Holiday Market orientation. This includes those of you who have been selling at the Park Blocks this season. It will make your HM experience go much more smoothly! The orientation will provide lots of important info specific to the Holiday Market vending experience, addressing everything from parking and load in to credit card sales to the location of the rest rooms. We have two more orientations scheduled, Wednesday Oct. 26 at 6:00 PM, and Wednesday, Nov. 2 at 3:30 PM at the office. The Nov. 2 orientation will be followed by the final product screening for this year at 4:15 PM. There is no product screening on Oct. 26.
If you are introducing a new product line for Holiday Market that is very different than your approved products, you’ll need to bring those items to a screening for approval. There are just TWO more screenings this season, Oct. 19 and Nov. 2 at 4:15 PM.

Market Wide Sale Today

Today is our annual Market Wide Sale! It’s a Saturday when there is no Ducks game at all, a.k.a. a “Bye” or in our case a “Buy!” Participation in the sale day is entirely voluntary, but it’s a good time to clear out summer stock, or just reward your customers with some kind of discount. Grab a sale sign at the Info Booth and let folks know what you’ve got going! We did extra print advertising in the Weekly and the Guard, and there is a Facebook event page.

Elf Ornaments to Color!
Are you up for a relaxing, fun coloring project? We have many laser engraved wooden elf ornaments that we’d love to have made beautiful by Marketeers! Like last year, these are made of MDF, and can be painted, glittered, crayoned, sharp- ned and penciled in whatever way suits your fancy. These will be given away to our customers on Nov. 19-20 as prizes for participating in our Spy Elves game. Grab some at the Info Booth, and get them back to the Market before Nov. 19. Thanks!

Committee Corner

The Holiday Market Committee met on Wednesday, colored elf ornaments, and talked about the HM Evaluation forms. We will try a Survey Monkey online version along with the paper version this year. The Board met and worked on the Manager evaluation process and accepted a Personnel Committee recommendation.

This week, the Standards Committee will meet on Wednesday and discuss some hold over screening issues, along with doing pre-Holiday product screenings. Meetings take place at the Market office, all are welcome to attend.

Holiday Market Guidebooks Arrive Next Week

The Holiday Market Guidebook looks amazing! Big thanks to all the vendors who took the time to create such beautiful ads. The first batch of Guidebooks will be available next week, Oct. 22 at SaturdayMarket. Your friendly Street Teamers will be set up next to the Info Booth from 7:45 until 8:30. If you’ve placed an ad you’ll have 20 copies available for pick up. If you haven’t placed an ad you’re welcome to come have a look and pick up a copy or two. If you’ve placed an ad and you’re not able to pick up your copies on October 22 you can pick up your copies afterward from the Saturday Market Office during normal office hours. The remaining copies of the Guidebook will be distributed during the first three weeks of Holiday Market at the four Directory pick up points and the
